Book of Genesis topic of new CDU seminar

The Catholic Distance University (CDU) will offer a new online seminar that will examine the main themes developed in the Book of Genesis. This three-week seminar, entitled Introduction to Genesis, will be held online May 12 – June 2. Dr. Robert Miller, assistant professor of Scripture at Mount St. Mary's Seminary, will lead the seminar.

This online interactive seminar will help participants gain an appreciation of the revelation of God in Genesis and the creation of man. It will also look at the account of the fall and the promise of redemption, the origins of the chosen people of God, and the meaning of covenant.

CDU's online seminars provide solid, authentic Catholic teachings in a flexible learning format.

Participants log into a seminar course room at a time that best meets their schedule. Opportunity for group discussion and interaction with other adults and the seminar instructor is designed into the course format.

This seminar can be taken for continuing education, undergraduate or graduate credit.
